Detailed Action

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 07/10/2006 has been entered.

Claims 1 and 22 have been amended. Claims 1-25 remain pending.

Written Restriction

2. A telephone call was made to the Applicant's Representative, Mr. Frank A. Delucia (Reg. No. 42,476) on 07/18/2006 to request an oral election to the below restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

5. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C 121:

Group (A): Claims 1-8 are drawn to a computer system for distributed data processing in a client/server environment (i.e., at least one of stations includes two or more playlists and only one of said two or more playlists specifies the content that may be delivered by that station at any one time over the network and wherein the user may add content to at least one of the two or more playlists associated with the at least one station), classified in class 709, subclass 203.

Group (B): Claims 9-14 are drawn to a computer system for accessing a remote server (i.e., requesting a specific new piece of content not currently described by information stored in a database as recited independent claim 9), classified in class 709, subclass 219.

Group (C): Claims 15-19 are drawn to a computer system for network resources access controlling (i.e., controlling/limiting access privileges of users in first and second user categories as recited in independent claim 15), classified in class 709, subclass 229.

Group (D): Claims 20-25 are drawn to a computer system for network resource allocating (i.e., assigning song content into supergenre and genre categories, each genre categories being assignable to one supergenre category, each artist and each station is also assignable to any number of genres as recited in independents claims 20 and 22), classified in class 709, subclass 226.

6. Inventions of Groups A-D are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention Group (A) is directed to a computer system for distributed data processing in a client/server environment, invention Group (B) is directed to a computer system for accessing a remote server, invention Group (C) is directed to a computer system for network resources access controlling, and invention Group (D) is directed to a computer system for network resource allocating. Therefore, inventions Groups A-D have different functions as well as effects. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

7. The inventions are distinct for each other because of the following reasons:

a. These inventions have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter.

b. The search required for one Group is not required for the other Group.

For the reasons above, the restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2141

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement must be submitted within 30 calendar days, not one month.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Quang N. Nguyen whose telephone number is (571) 272-3886.
